FORWORD

TO THOSE . . . who have given unselfish years of service to Broadview Academy . . . who have served as a stabilizing influence . . . to the school and community . . . who through the years . . . have delved deeply . . . into the reservoir of wisdom and understanding . . . and presented before us . . . a mightier challenge . . . and nobler ideal . . . we affectionately dedicate . . . the ENCORE of '51.

May it say to you . . . a few of the things . . . which we cannot express . . . In enriching our experience, . . . encouraging our endeavor . . . and developing our individuality, . . . you have challenged us . . . to respond to God's commission . . . In accepting that challenge . . . we erect a monument of love in our hearts . . . for your service.

DEDICATION

CHAIRMAN

EVERY YOUNG PERSON ought to be prepared to face the practical realities of life — its opportunities, its responsibilities, its defeats and its successes. How he is to meet these experiences, whether he is to become master or victim of circumstances, depends largely upon his preparation to cope with them.”— Education, page 7.

The above statement explains the mission of Broadview Academy. Here in this school can be found the opportunity for Illinois S. D. A. youth to receive both the inspiration for Christian living and preparation for Christian service.

Investigate the opportunities at Broadview Academy first!

LEE TAYLOR

BROADVIEW ACADEMY is God's institution. It is a barrier against the overwhelming tide of evil that Satan has turned loose upon the world. While in attendance here, hundreds of young people have caught a vision of service and have consecrated their lives to the Lord. Their record of hardship, faith, love, and achievement is one of which the Academy is justly proud.

Every youth of academy age in Illinois should be enrolled at Broadview Academy. This is the Lord's plan. Let us as members of the Board, faculty, and constituency, unite our efforts to save our youth; let us channel their vigor and consecration into the furrow of the world's great need. Let us place the youth of Illinois in a haven of refuge—Broadview Academy.

TREASURER'S OFFICE

A place where accounts are reckoned, the place from which all spending and collecting is supervised, an office run by a capable and congenial man who listens understandingly to our financial tales of woe and offers wise counsel when the going is rough,—this is the Treasurer's Office, and the Treasurer.

D. N. Hartman

Accounting Department

The mysterious precision and accuracy of figures cause many of us to regard the Accounting Department and its workers with special awe and admiration when we think of our own inability to add 2 plus 2 and come out with the proper answer. The efficiency with which this office hums is reflected in the person of Mrs. Hallock who supervises the helpers and acts as accountant.

Mrs. Norman R. Hallock

Whether we are securing a class permit, calling for mail, or receiving our monthly statement, we can note with pride that our requests are handled with pleasant efficiency, a quality we all seek to emulate.

FRENCH CLASS

Annabelle Davidson
Registrar, French, English

— Parlez-vous français?

— Oui, je parle française très bien.

"Do you speak French?" asks one French I student of another. And indeed, when Miss Davidson is through teaching a French II student, he may answer proudly, "Yes, I speak French very well."

But not only does Miss Davidson teach French and English, she also is the Registrar. Before we become seniors, we see this familiar office many times — whether we go there to straighten out an absence, apply for one of those wonderful "free days," seek help on our correspondence course, or just drop in to say a cheerful "hello" to the Registrar.

R. Willard Wentland
Bible, History, Pastor

Through the pages of Ancient, Bible, and World History, the men who lived in other days pass in review. Here our minds are taught to learn by the experiences of others who walked the way before us. Here our problems and those of the social world are presented — and God's solutions are applied.

"This time spent in gaining a loving trust in the Author of the Bible is the best preparation for Eternity." In our Bible classes, we apply ourselves wholly to the scriptures and the scriptures wholly to ourselves. Here we fulfill the purpose of a Christian education; for it has been said and truly so, that "Education is more the development of power than the mere accumulation of facts."

SPEECH CLASS • CHURCH HISTORY

Arthur Anders

Dean of Boys, Bible, Speech

A time to speak . . . to become conscious of our inherent possibilities in the field of public expression . . . to overcome that latent fear we all possess . . . and to say what is in our hearts and minds with clarity and understanding.

"Here," points out Mr. Anders, "is where Paul made one of his missionary journeys."

TIME — that rare intangible thing we never have enough of; that despotic ruler of our lives and governor of our days; the thing all men seek and can never find; the stuff that life is made of; our link with the past and with the future; the thief who steals our youth; the measure of our lives which moves relentlessly on, taking with it all but the memories of the days that have gone before . . .

TIME

There have been good times, bad times, interesting times, dull times, inspirational times, and times of despair. If we were to live again the days of our year, all these and other times would come to our recollection. There were mountain peak experiences in 1951. There were times of resolution and deliberation. There were fierce struggles with conscience; there were heart-breaking Gethsemanes; and yet . . .

A time will come when our minds turn again to the Broadview of '51 . . . to the pleasurable remembrances of that year . . . Gone will be the questions, the doubts, the faint dissatisfactions; and in their places will loom the cherished memories of the years and pride in our alma mater. Our thoughts will be of the Weeks of Prayer, of friends and teachers, of classes attended and lessons learned, of campaigns, of programs, of skating and picnics, of study periods and prayer bands. We will close our eyes and memory's magic will bring music to our ears—songs of consecration and dedication sung by determined young people . . . Step by Step, Faithful Forever, Now I Belong to Jesus . . .

And we will know that the Time we spent at Broadview was Time well spent . . . that our contacts of 1951 at B.V.A. were of eternal significance . . . and that although Time waits for no man . . . it cannot rob us of our precious memories . . . memories of Broadview, '51.

Dear Sir: Thank you for your letter . . .

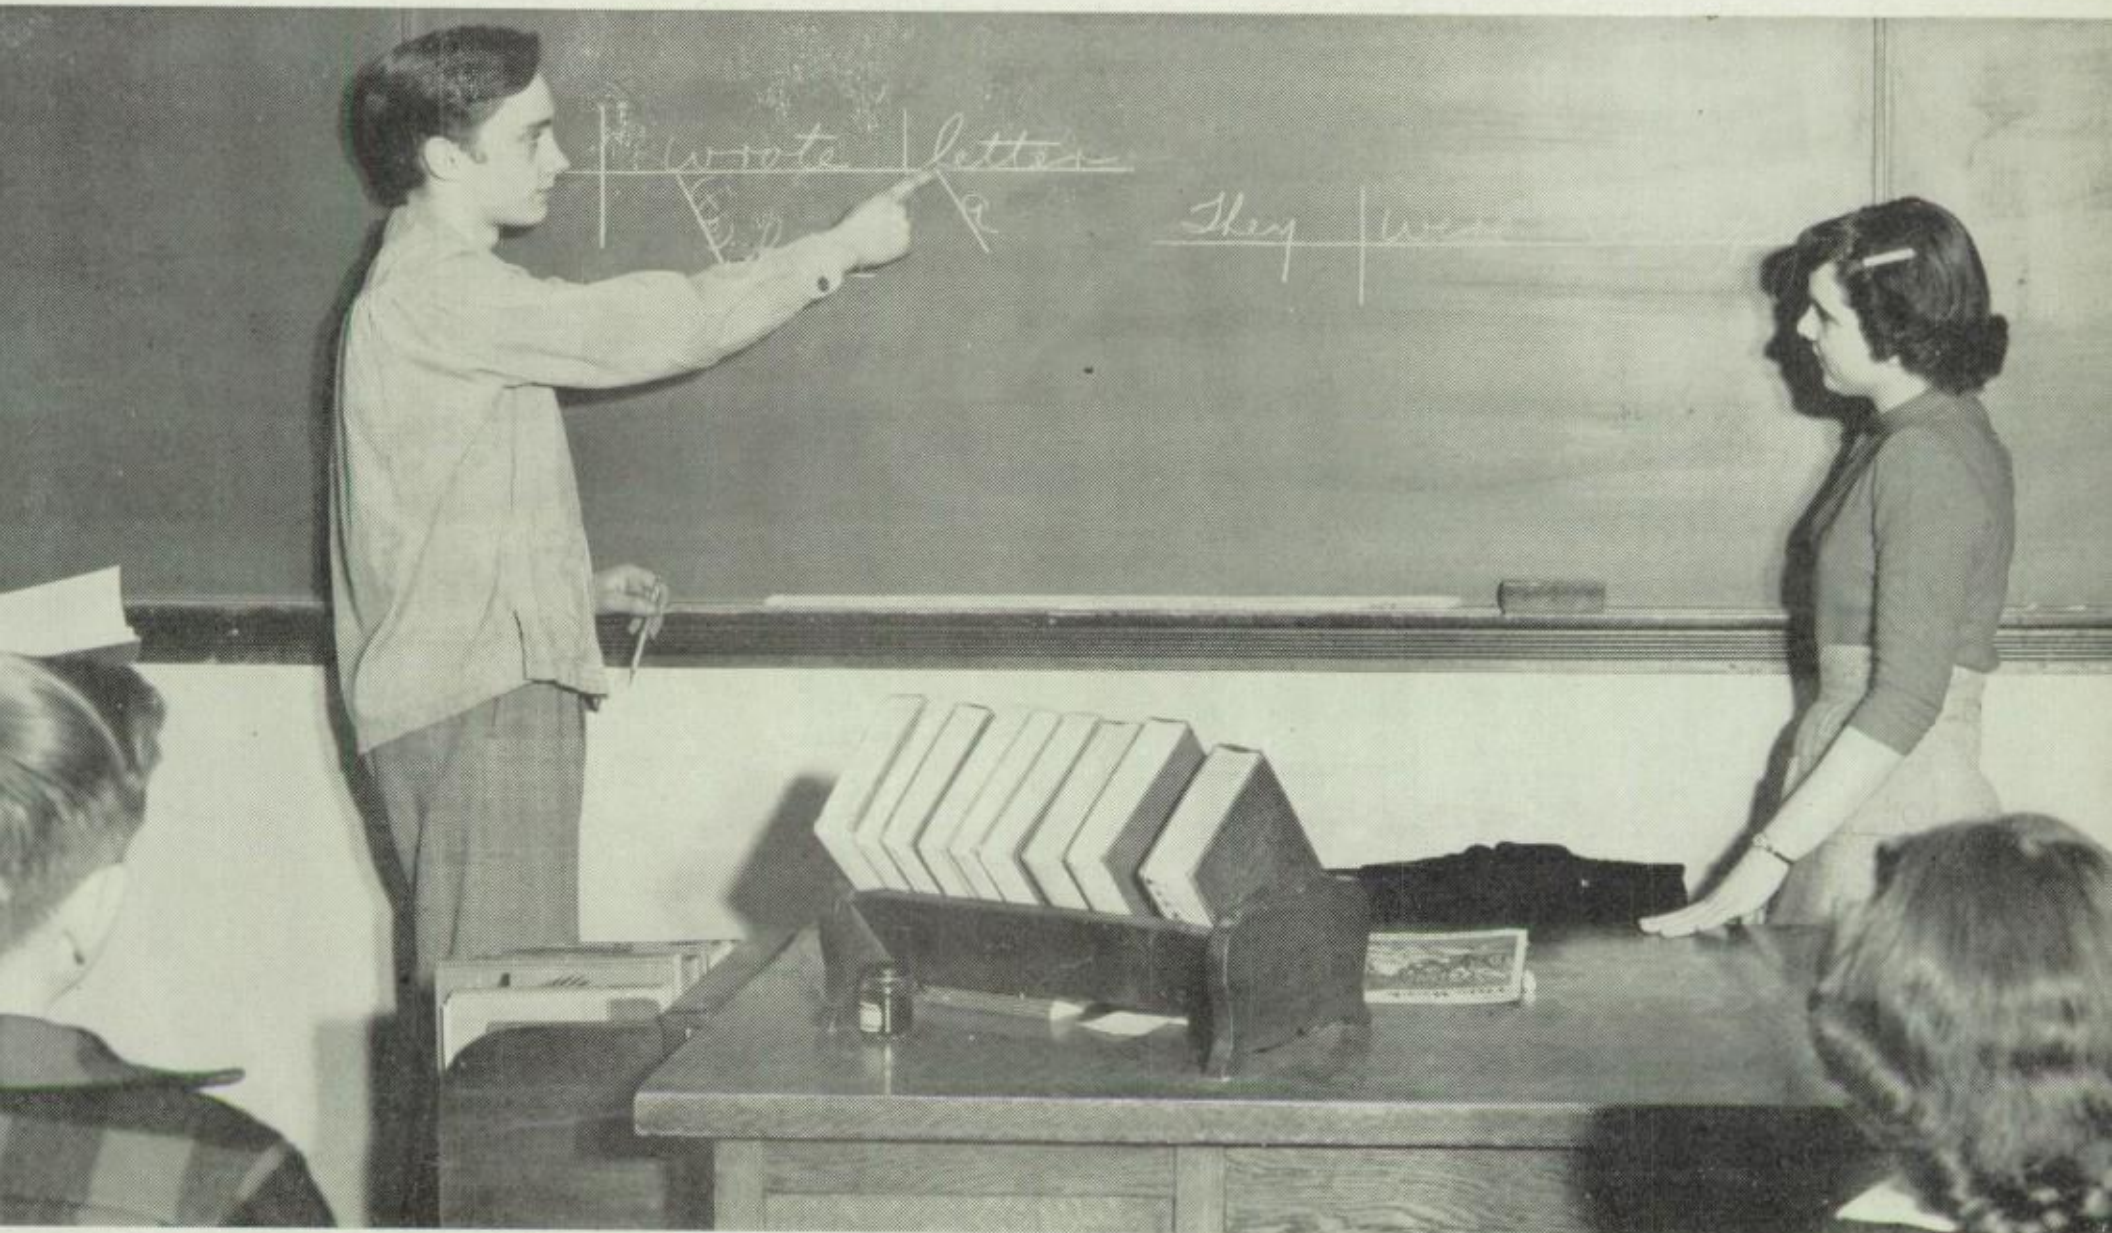

Now is the time for all good men . . .

Ruth Wiest
English

"It isn't what we say that counts but the way we say it." This familiar quotation could certainly apply to English. Some of our teachers teach us to weigh well our ideas before we speak; but in our English classes, Miss Wiest teaches us also to choose well our words so that our ideas may be expressed not only coherently but correctly. The passing of time will bring home to us more vividly the lasting inspiration we have received from our studies of the best in literature.

"Poetry is only the beginning of a dream on a trail that tends to lead one on — on a promised journey that somehow never ends."

RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES

"TAKE TIME TO BE HOLY. . ." How dear are the memories of these inspirational phases of our campus life. Time to study, time to work, and time to play; but most important of all, time to be holy.

TIME FOR SERVICE. . . Time to share with someone else a little of our happiness in Ingathering work and Sunshine Band. The amount of time spent in service was the most satisfying of all our experiences. For in seeking happiness for others, we unconsciously found it for ourselves; and in filling our lives with something useful to do, we found satisfaction and contentment which is impossible in any other type of endeavor.

STUDENT COUNCIL AND S. A. M.

In the midst of the busy hustle of our school days, the Student Advance Movement and Students Council found time to meet to plan for the students' activities and campaigns which set before us ever-widening horizons. With boundless energy, we rose as one student body to meet and conquer the tasks before us. Not only was our ENCORE-EXPO-NENT Campaign successful, but others such as the Organ Campaign stand as proof of the value of ambitious and industrious students.

Nduna Officers: Row 1, F. Johnson, J. Holdridge, R. Horn, H. Foll, Mr. Anders. Row 2, L. Livesay, B. Howard, N. Kopitzke, L. Hanson, D. Peterson, J. Hanson, A. Noble, T. Bridger, D. Paulson

Time to play — to forget the everyday routine for a while and put heart and body into a brisk game of basketball or baseball. In this way, we not only improve intellect but body as well; and how we cherish the memories of those intramural contests . . . the happy and carefree times spent in friendly rivalry for class supremacy. In addition to sponsoring recreation of the athletic nature, the Nduna Club plans parties and programs to flavor school routine with the spice of variety. The planning of these functions challenges the initiative and originality of the residents of Elm Hall, and it is under such conditions that we best learn to practice the rules of co-operation and good sportsmanship as we work together with our club officers.

Girls' Club Officers: Front; J. Pitts, H. Bessemer. Back; Y. Morinaga, R. Shane, M. Martin, J. Schuetter, F. Baethke, E. Severs, B. Vinkel, Miss Friestad

Many are the memories of happy days at the College Wood Products. Whether stretching plastic, or packing boxes, there was always a cheerful atmosphere. Time spent in work was perhaps some of the most valuable time, for here we learned to pull together; and student learned to get along with student. Few things are impossible to diligence — and much of it was displayed by faithful workers in the C.W. P.

Broadview Academy supplies its own Grade A Milk from its Grade A Dairy. This spring something new was added, i. e., facilities for making our own ice cream.

The boys who work on the farm are gaining valuable experience and are discovering new fields of interest which can be highly beneficial to them in future years.
